GENERAL ORDERS, NO. 2.

The Army of the Cuyahoga After the "Yanks."

The following order was captured by one of General Griffin's scouts: HEADQUARTERS IN THE FIELD, ARMY OF THE CUYAHOGA, U. S. A. June 28, 1893.

GENERAL ORDERS, NO. 2.

Trustworthy scouts, who have just returned to these headquarters from Canton, report a large force of "Yanks" concentrating at that point, under the command of General H. G. Griffin, who, anticipating an attack from the Army of the Cuyahoga, is throwing up extensive earth works and otherwise strengthening his position.

Upon this information, this army will break camp upon the banks of the Cuyahoga on the evening of July 3, march upon Canton, annihilate General Griffin's army and hold that important stronghold until further orders.

II. This army will move south along the Valley railway in three grand divisions, in the following order:

First Division.—The several squadrons of cavalry, under the personal command of General Clint Ruckel, Chief of Cavalry, First battalion, the "Mississippi Sharpshooters," Colonel Lewis Yerrick commanding. First battery, the "Virginia Thunderclaps," Capt. Geo. Hewitt, commanding.

Second Division.—Second battalion, the "Louisiana Tigers," Colonel H. C. De Ross commanding. Third battalion, the "Charleston Greys," Colonel G. C. Conger commanding. Fourth battalion, the "Palmetto Invincibles," Colonel Frank Allen, commanding. Second battery, the "Georgia Whiteclouds," Capt. Wm. D. Corbin, commanding. Third battery, the "Montgomery Cadets," Capt. Ira Huff, commanding.

Third Division.—Fifth battalion, the "Alabama Legion," Col. John W. Evans commanding. Sixth battalion, the "Memphis Wildcatters," Col. Dick Harris commanding. Fourth battery, Gatling guns, the "Texas Cyclones," Capt. A. A. Bartlett, commanding.

Headquarters of the General commanding will be with the second division during the march.

III. Gen. Joe Price, Chief of Engineers, will proceed immediately to equip the sappers and miners with all necessary implements, and see that the pontoon train is ready and the pontoons in the best serviceable condition.

IV. Gen. Bob, Quartermaster General, will provide all necessary clothing, camp equipage, and the very best of rations for the men. He may confiscate all contraband goods from the rich country through which we are passing, and all captured "liquids" until after our great victory over the "Yanks" shall have been won, when he shall furnish a liberal "hash" of "old Bourbon" to each and every man.

V. Col. J. R. Campbell, Chief of Ordnance, will see that the cannon in the perfect condition, that the sabers of the cavalry have been razor edges, and have an abundance of ammunition.

VI. Col. W. A. Miller, Surgeon General, will have ambulances, stretchers, etc., and medical and surgical equipment. He must have plenty of lint, bandages and arnica. He may carry one keg of "apple cake," to administer in severe cases of "cramp."

VII. Upon arriving at Green town, Gen. Clint Ruckel will take two squadrons of cavalry and two pieces of light artillery and make a raid into the enemy's country, first striking to the left, strike the Connetton Valley R. R. at Middle Branch, cut the telegraph wires, then strike the main line to Louisville and make bonfire of bridge on the P. Ft. W. & C. road, cut telegraph wires, scatter the natives with a yell, and then hurry to Canton, burn railroad bridge and cut telegraph wires, and then hurry to North Industry, burn bridge on Valley Railway, cut wires, and then hurry to Canton, for balance of night. Gen. Ruckel may, if time and condition of horses and men will permit, send a hundred or two of picked men to Bethlehem to intercept and capture any reinforcements the "Yanks" may be receiving from Beach City and thence to the country. But Gen. Ruckel must, without fail, be at 106 Mile Station, on the P. Ft. W. & C. road, between Massillon and Canton, at 4 o'clock sharp on the morning of the 4th, and there report for further duty to Gen. Tanehill, who will be there with a force of cavalry.

VIII. Gen. W. B. Tanehill, Chief of Staff, will take a squadron of the "Black Horse Cavalry," make a strike to the right of Green town, strike main road and cut telegraph wires, and then hurry to 106 Mile Station, on the P. Ft. W. & C. road, where he will be joined by Gen. Ruckel and his force. After destroying telegraph and telegraph lines at this place, Gen. Tanehill will, with all possible speed, rejoin main command at a point three miles south of New Berlin.

IX. The greatest caution must be taken after leaving Green town, as we then shall be in the enemy's country, and our scouts report quite a force of "Yanks" at New Berlin. The column should be formed in strong position at this point, the column will leave New Berlin to the left and not bring on an engagement, and will again strike the line of the Valley Railway at a point three miles south of New Berlin. If the Yankee forces at New Berlin can be sighted, the commanding general will see that it is done.

X. While a strong force of cavalry will guard the flanks of the column, every soldier must be ready for action at a moment's warning. Straggling will not be tolerated. Stopping to milk cows, hunt eggs, or flirt with young ladies, is strictly prohibited. The men must not even be allowed to stop and fish in Meyer's Lake, in the Nimschell or the Tuscarawas—we are not fighting it out on that line. It is all important that the strictest discipline be maintained until we are out of our hands and are showing cowardice during action will be made to swallow a quart of tar, if it has to be rammed down his throat with a corn cob.

XI. Surgeons will not be allowed to stop and extract corns during the march, nor shall they be allowed to saw off a leg with a cross-cut or rip saw, unless it is the leg of the Yankee General Griffin.

Official: D. KITTERBAUGH, Lt. Colonel, General Commanding, Adjutant General.

MONNOT-BARLET.

A Pleasant Church Wedding on a Lovely June Morning.

The sun never shone brighter than upon the morn that Hon. John E. Monnot met a bride of Miss Laurie M. Barlet. The wedding occurred at St. John's church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. The church was filled with friends of the high contracting parties, and the sweet perfume of June flowers was everywhere prevalent. At the hour appointed Mr. Monnot entered with Miss Barlet on his arm. They were preceded by three little ladies with bouquets of flowers. The bride party proceeded at once to the altar and stood before Rev. Father J. P. McGuire who united them for life. Miss Barlet, dressed in white with a long flowing bridal veil, made a sweet picture, and the groom looked proud and handsome. During the services Miss Sarah Lavin sang, high mass was celebrated after which the happy couple were driven to the Barlet residence, at No. 83 West Third street, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served and where they received the hearty congratulations of numerous friends. Mr. Monnot is one of the best known men in the state, having served with distinction in the legislative body and having attained prominence as an orator. The bride is a lovely, womanly young woman who has endeared herself to a large circle of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Monnot left on the noon train for the east. They will go on to New York and from there will take a boat to Boston. They will spend some little time at the sea shore and will visit Washington and Baltimore before they return home. They will be absent about three weeks, and upon their return will take up their residence in apartments in the Dougherty block. The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Monnot wish them every success and much happiness.
